Eisenhower Rests After Trip to Capital

Works Out Plans With Aides for Move To Gettysburg Farm

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will open a temporary White House office in downtown Gettysburg, Pa., and may report there for a brief spell of work as early as next Tuesday, it was announced today.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower rested today from a trip that turned out to be easy and for a job ahead that promised to be tough.

His doctors said the President, well on the way to recovery from a heart attack, came through Friday's five-hour flight from Denver, plus parting and homecoming ceremonies there and here, without tiring.

But they made it plain he was not yet ready to tangle headlong with all the host of developing problems on which he sooner or later must act.

As the President himself said on climbing, smiling, from his Air Force Transport plane here late Friday, the doctors had given him a "parole"—not yet a full "parole."

Allowed Few Duties

"I expect to be back at my accustomed duties," he told 5,000 cheering, happy people at Washington National Airport, "but they say I must ease my way into them and not bulldoze my way into them."

On his first full day back in the White House, after an absence of almost three months, the convalescing President was expected to spend a little time with his aides, a lot more with his family, and a good bit doing not much of anything.

He had an early appointment with Sherman Adams, his top assistant, and James C. Hagerty, his press secretary. The chief business was working out plans for the President's move to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, probably Monday, to complete his convalescence.

The President's son, John, his wife, Barbara, and their three children, were overnight house guests. Mr. Eisenhower had held a joyful reunion with them, and with his brother Milton, Friday night.

The President's stay here was planned as a brief one, actually a sort of rest-stop on the way from Denver to Gettysburg, where his doctors think he can continue his long climb back to health with the inevitable strains of the presidency held to a minimum.

Barring severe winter weather, which could drive him south, he

Floyd E. Dillard, 46, Dies; Victim Of Indiana Shooting

A shooting in a rooming house in Princeton, Ind., last week claimed its third life Friday when Floyd E. Dillard, 46, resident of Eldorado RFD 1 and a Princeton coal miner, died in the Deaconess hospital in Evansville where he had been in a coma for the past eight days.

Dillard was wounded at Princeton when a man shot three persons, killing Mrs. Ethel Bryant, 47, Princeton, and her aunt, Mrs. Ella Cox, 64, East St. Louis.

Lawrence Bryant, 57, Palestine, Ill., railroad worker, was held in Gibson county jail at Princeton on murder charges.

He leaves his wife, Mary Magdalene, and the following children: Lowell Eugene of Eldorado, Harold, Galesburg, Mrs. Niwane Lee Lindsay, Indianapolis, Ind., Donald Ray, East St. Louis, Larry Dale of Elgin and Peggy Sharon at home; and eight grandchildren.

Also surviving are the following sisters and brothers: Wiley Dillard, Eldorado, Isaac, Junction, Robert of Harrisburg, Ode Dillard, Eldorado, Mrs. Myrtle Edwards, Detroit, Mrs. Carrie Wren, Buckner, Mrs. Oma Smith, Danville, and Mrs. Stella Stone, Raleigh, and his father-in-law, T. A. Evert of Eldorado.

The body is lying in state at the Martin funeral home in Eldorado. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Social Brethren church in Parish Addition.

Heartbroken Father of Two Slain Boys Dies of Heart Attack

CHICAGO (AP)—Anton Schuessler, who could find no peace after the murder of his two sons and their neighborhood pal, has joined them as the killers' fourth victim.

The 42-year-old tailor's heart cracked Friday, 26 days after the nude, mutilated bodies of his two boys and their friend were found dumped in a forest preserve ditch.

His wife, now utterly alone in the world, said Schuessler died of a broken heart.

"It's all the killers' fault," the 37-year-old widow sobbed. "They've killed the boys and now they've killed Tony. I had everything to live for and now I've got nothing."

The official report said that Schuessler died of an apparent heart attack while undergoing treatment a few hours after he had entered a suburban rest home for a complete rest.

Tony Schuessler was a happy, home loving man until the horror slaying of his boys, John, 13, and Anton Jr., 11. He had never suffered from heart trouble.

Day and night, he tramped Chicago's northwest side looking for suspicious persons, for clues, for anything that might lead to the killers.

He was joined by another bereaved father, Malcolm Peterson. Peterson's 13-year-old son, Robert, had died with the Schuessler boys. As a routine measure, electrical shock treatment was administered to Schuessler because "he was in a very depressed state," rest home officials said. The broken man's first reactions were normal. But then his pulse began to weaken.

Four doctors worked nearly three hours trying to keep Schuessler alive. They failed.

On the day he had to identify the murdered bodies of his sons, he fell on his knees before his wife and sobbed "Mother, what kind of a land do we live in!"

From that moment on Schuessler knew no rest until death mercifully granted it to him.

He abandoned his cleaning and tailoring shop to search for the murderers.

Miss Peggy Walters, 17, Injured When Train Hits Auto

Miss Peggy Walters, 17, of this city narrowly escaped death yesterday morning when the auto she was driving was clipped by a New York Central locomotive at the Barnett street intersection.

She was taken to the Harrisburg hospital suffering injuries about the mouth, and bruises about the body.

Reports were that Miss Walters, daughter of Mrs. Bernice Walters of this city, was travelling east on Barnett and almost got across the tracks before a southbound freight train got to the crossing. But the locomotive clipped the rear of the car as it was crossing the rails.

Damage to the auto was confined to a part of the rear of the car. The collision occurred at 9:15 a. m.

Stevenson Asks UN Patrols in Middle East

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, in an address heralding an expected bid for the presidency, proposed Friday night that the United Nations patrol the tense Israel and Egyptian borders. "Certainly both sides would respect U. N. patrols where they do not trust each other."

Stevenson accused the Republican administration of President Eisenhower, his victorious opponent in the 1952 presidential campaign, of showing too little initiative in face of a "danger of all-out war" in the Middle East.

Stevenson's address highlighting the Woodrow Wilson Centennial observance at the University of Virginia was his last major public appearance before his expected announcement next Tuesday as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson addressed an estimated audience of 3,000 persons from the platform on which the late President Roosevelt gave his famous "stab in the back" speech on the eve of World War II.

Stevenson said the United States should "counteract" any Soviet attempt to upset the balance of armed strength of Israel and Egypt but should not use force, choose sides, or permit an arms race.

"The permanent flames of undeclared war between Israel and her neighbors have smoldered too long," he said, and "there is danger of all-out war developing while we debate which side was the aggressor."

First run, at 2:55 p. m. Thursday, was to 325 West South street to extinguish a grass fire which caught from burning rubbish.

At 1:20 a. m. Friday a run was made to 614 South Granger to the home of Bill Ghent, where a shorted motor on the furnace blower filled the house with smoke.

Yesterday at 3:35 p. m. a grass fire which caught from burning rubbish was extinguished at 311 West Raymond.

The home of Mrs. Carrie Horn at Galatia was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Horn was not at home when the fire caught. None of the contents was removed. The house was a one-story frame structure. Origin of the fire was not determined.

Union to Ask Illinois To Test Guaranteed Wage U. C. Payments

CHICAGO (AP)—The state of Illinois will be asked to test the legality of collecting payments on union lay-off pay plans along with state unemployment compensation.

Duane Greathouse, director of Region 4 of the CIO United Auto Workers, planned to make the request. About 22,500 UAW workers in Illinois are affected.

The UAW has negotiated guaranteed wage contracts with the Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. But it has not been determined in many states whether an employee can receive state unemployment compensation while he is already getting layoff pay from his company.

Have Faith in Peace, Judge Dennis Urges

Says 'Do Not Lose Hope' In Veterans Day Address

County Judge Traflet Dennis yesterday called upon all people to have hope and faith that a lasting peace can be secured.

Judge Dennis, speaking at the Veterans Day observance on the court house square, read the preamble to the American Legion Constitution and said that if everybody—not just Legionnaires—were to follow it in their daily living, "we would be so much closer to the establishment of a lasting peace."

He began by saying that in the early years the Nov. 11 holiday, throngs congregated to celebrate having the hope that there would be an enduring peace.

But, he continued, he was perturbed at the small size of the gatherings in more recent years, declaring it appeared that some people had lost their hope for an enduring peace.

"And we can have no enduring peace if we have lost the faith," he declared. "We can have no accomplishments along that line without faith and hope. We should make it our daily task to have the lasting peace of which we have so long dreamed."

Amos Doom was master of ceremonies for the joint Legion-VFW observance at which the Rev. Glen Daugherty, pastor of the First Christian church, gave the invocation and the prayer of dismissal.

A combined VFW-Legion firing squad gave the salute at 11 a. m. with Taps being sounded by the Legion bugler.

Russia Proposes Big 4 Renounce Use of Force

GENEVA (AP)—Russia proposed a four-power declaration renouncing use of force in international disputes today in a Big Four conference meeting that ended in deadlock on the issue of world disarmament.

The U. S. British, French and Soviet foreign ministers held a final face-saving meeting on disarmament that turned suddenly from bitter verbal slugging to calm and moderation.

They abandoned further attempts now to reach an agreement on disarmament but left the door open for further talks.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, using a more conciliatory tone, repeated that the Soviets "under certain conditions" would accept President Eisenhower's "open sky" proposal for aerial photography and exchange of blueprints.

Dulles Says Talks Helpful

Molotov also proposed the Big Four should join in a declaration opposing the use of force in settlement of international disputes. Such a declaration, he said, would be desirable to peace and security.

The Soviet delegate said that "we recognize the need to continue to seek agreement on a comprehensive program for disarmament which would promote international peace and security."

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said:

"I feel confident that even if we didn't reach a large measure of formalized agreement on disarmament, certainly the exchange of viewpoints which occurred here has been instructive and will help our representatives in the United Nations."

Three Runs by Fire Department

Fire Chief L. G. Martin today reported the fire department made three runs Thursday afternoon and Friday.

First run, at 2:55 p. m. Thursday, was to 325 West South street to extinguish a grass fire which caught from burning rubbish.

At 1:20 a. m. Friday a run was made to 614 South Granger to the home of Bill Ghent, where a shorted motor on the furnace blower filled the house with smoke.

UN Observers Report Unification, Peace in Korea, Still Long Way Off

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Permanent peace and unification for Korea still are a long way off, United Nations observers said today in interpreting U. S. and British reports to the U. N. main political committee on the divided nation.

U. S. Delegate Jacob Blaustein and Britain's Sir Pierson Dixon, as the first speakers in the committee's general debate on Korea Friday, painted a dismal picture of post-war events in the war-torn nation.

But, the United States, in a resolution offered to the committee, expressed the hope that peaceful means would be found for the unification of Korea. The resolution called on the General Assembly to push its efforts for "an early solution of the Korean question."

U. S. Offers Resolution

The American resolution breathed life into the question for at least another year since it requested that the Korean question be listed on the agenda of next year's General Assembly.

The American resolution offered no methods or means for bringing about lasting peace and unity for Korea. Two days of discussion in the main committee on Korea showed the Western nations and Communists as far apart as ever on vital issues.

Blaustein and Dixon both pointed out that it was the Communists who were blocking the United Nations aims in Korea. The American said that the Koreans hope for a country "united under a free and independent government" was "thwarted" by the North Korean Communists.

Both delegates accused the Communists of violating the 1953 armistice agreement by building up Red armed forces in North Korea.

Brazilian President Ousted by Army Coup; to Return from Ship

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Ousted President Carlos Luz announced today he was surrendering to the army coup that overthrew his government and said he would return to Rio from his short-lived exile aboard a warship.

The Navy Ministry announced that Luz sent a message to acting President Nereu Ramos saying that "in view of the situation" he accepted his ouster by a military coup and vote of Congress.

Luz fled Rio aboard the Brazilian Navy Cruiser Tamandare which anchored off Santos, port city of Sao Paulo, 220 miles southwest of here.

"My attitude until this moment was only prompted by the decision to safeguard the authority of the president of the republic and uphold the constitution," his radio message from the warship said.

But he said he still had many friends in Brazil and appealed to the new government to maintain order "to avoid the spilling of the generous Brazilian blood."

Luz added that he hopes his voluntary return to Rio will be "taken into consideration" since his decision was "inspired not only by a feeling of mutual honor, but in the trust that we have in the courage and civility of the Brazilian Navy."

Earlier, Luz had insisted in a message to Congress that he was still in power.

The government rushed loyal troop reinforcements into Sao Paulo, center of resistance building up against the bloodless "revolution to prevent a revolution."

Lott Leads Coup

So far there has been no fighting in the coup led by War Minister Gen. Henrique Teixeira Lott which overthrew acting President Luz and installed Ramos in his place.

Plan to Repair City Hall Columns

Those two big columns in front of the city hall, subject of discussion of past city councils because of the danger which prevails due to their weakened condition, apparently will get repaired soon.

Some heavy pieces, which are hanging precariously from one of them, were pushed loose yesterday morning and the front of the city hall has been roped off to keep people from getting hurt.

Chief of Police Ross Lane said that the pieces were liable to fall on someone anytime; so yesterday city hall employees reached out a window and pushed off the dangerous pieces.

Plans are to do a complete repair job on the two columns.

Skyraider Dives Into Ship While On Maneuvers

Three Aboard Navy Plane, Two on Destroyer Killed

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The death toll stood at five today from the spectacular crash of a Navy attack bomber into the Destroyer USS Hopewell during maneuvers 80 miles west of here.

A Douglas Skyraider dived into the 2,050-ton ship Friday in a low-level attack during joint United States-Canadian maneuvers.

The tragedy resembled "Kamikaze" attacks of World War II in which Japanese pilots deliberately plunged their planes into Navy ships.

The dead included the three men aboard the plane and two sailors on the ship suffered burns. They were flown to San Diego naval hospital by helicopter.

The Pacific fleet air command identified the three aboard the plane as Lt. Cmdr. M. S. Essary, 40, the pilot, of San Diego; and Radarman R. E. Stewart, Punxsunawney, Pa., and B. M. Phillips, Jamaica, N. Y.

Names of the two dead sailors were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The injured were identified as Seaman John P. Hoskins, 24, of Newhall, Calif.; On 3-C Rudy La Porta, 21, of San Francisco; Electrician's Mate Alamo J. C. Cecchi, 21, of Green Bay, Wis.; Slt-3 Tifford L. Johnson, 30, of Hamilton, Ohio, and Chief Machinists Mate Jefferson G. Maner, 37, of San Diego.

Of the five injured men, only Maner was reported in serious condition. The others were reported in good condition.

Navy Commander Mark M. Grandor, North Chicago, Ill., skipper of the Hopewell, said it appeared the plane was making a simulated attack upon the ship when the crash happened.

The propeller-driven bomber smashed into the destroyer's steel side and burst into flames. So great was the impact that the plane's engine came out on the other side of the ship. A gaping hole was torn in the destroyer's plates. Flaming fuel from the plane sprayed over the ship.

The Hopewell began taking in water, but the destroyers Ingersoll and Yarnal pulled alongside and helped put out the flames. After temporary repairs, the Hopewell returned to port here under her own power.

Death Takes Mrs. J. W. Davis, 70, After Long Illness

Mrs. Sarah Ann Davis, 70, wife of Joseph Wilburn Davis, died at midnight Thursday at her home, 115 West South. Death followed a long illness. Mrs. Davis suffered a stroke Jan. 22, 1948 nine years ago and had been bedfast for seven weeks.

She was born January 9, 1885, in Saline county to Dr. Leroy and Laurinda Hawkins. On July 6, 1904, she was married to Joseph Wilburn Davis, and she and Mr. Davis celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in July of last year.

Mrs. Davis was a member of the First Baptist church where the funeral service will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. The pastor, Rev. Joe Norman, will officiate and interment will be in the Big Ridge cemetery.

Besides her husband she leaves the following children: Mrs. Nina Lea Travis, New Iberia, La.; Kenneth L. Davis, George H. Davis and Roger N. Davis, all of Harrisburg; Chas. W. Davis, Springfield, John W. Davis, Galatia, and Mrs. Dorothy Anne Johnston, Garland, Tex.; 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Also surviving are three brothers, Ray Hawkins, Eldorado, John Hawkins, Watova, Okla., and Hubert Hawkins of Harrisburg.

The body lies in state in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home.

Looks Deceive in Guessing Dairy Cows' Production

URBANA—Looks were deceiv-ing to 19 out of every 20 persons who estimated the production of "Susie" and "Molly," two Brown
Swiss cows on exhibit at Dairy
Day held at the University of Illinois on September 8. Only one person in 20 estimated the milk production of both cows accurately enough to make his judgment valuable as a guide in such herd management practices as culling, feeding and breeding.

Farmers are making decisions about herd management practices for over 90 percent of Illinois dairy cows without the help of accurate production records. Thru the County Agricultural Extension Service, some type of production
records—Dairy Herd Improvement Association, Owner-Sampler, or Weight-a-Day-a-Month—are available to every dairy farmer in Illinois.

Winter Rye Becoming More Popular

Winter rye is the "roughest, toughest cereal crop of them all,"
according to a University of Illinois agronomist. And that is one reason Illinois farmers are growing more of it every year.

J. W. Pendleton, crop production specialist, says winter rye acreage in the state has steadily increased since 1951. The 1955 crop was the largest harvested since 1919.

Why all of this sudden interest
in an age-old crop?

Besides its hardness, here are three other reasons Pendleton gives for the popularity of winter
rye with Illinois farmers:

1. Wheat and corn acreage allotments have freed more land.
2. More rye is being used for pasture and forage.
3. Rye is being interseeded as a winter cover and as a green manure crop in corn and soybeans
both before and after harvest.

This tough customer will grow
well on poorer soil, on drier soil and in colder weather than any of the other grains. It will grow in sandy soil or soil that is low in fertility where other grains may fail completely. On good soils, it yields about two-thirds as much as wheat.

You can fertilize rye, but you'll be putting your money to more profitable work if you apply the fertilizer to wheat and other small grains, says Pendleton. Seeding rate for rye is five to six pecks an acre in Illinois. It can be sown all the way up into November, and a good seedbed is not necessary.

Rye is used in Illinois as a cash-grain crop and for grain feed, pasture or green manure.

Cash grain is transformed into such things as rye whiskey and rye bread. Some is sold for seed.

Rye is not a good feed when fed alone, the agronomist explains. But it makes good feed when mixed with other farm grains.

It is the best grain crop in Illinois for fall and spring pasture.
It grows until late in the autumn and gets a very early start in the spring.

Use of rye for green manure is relatively new in Illinois. Pendleton reports. Plowing it down for its organic matter seems to be a potentially important use for the crop. This new use is getting a lot of attention at agricultural experiment stations right now.

Balbo is the first-choice variety for pastures in Illinois. In the extreme northern part of the state, however, it may winter-kill. Pierre or Emerald might do better there, Pendleton says.

Steers Gain Well On Pelleted Rations

Steers like their feed in pellet form.

And they'll gain more weight on less feed when the same ration is in pellet form than when it is not,
says R. J. "Bob" Webb.
Webb is superintendent of the Dixon Springs Experiment Station
of the University of Illinois. His report was one of those given at the annual Cattle Feeders Day today at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Four lots of cattle were included in this experiment with pelleted feed at the Station, located in Pope county. Each lot was fed 65 percent ear corn, 10 percent oil meal, 5 percent cane molasses and 20 percent alfalfa hay. It was fed both in pellet and meal form.

Reports on other studies included the use of stilbestrol in beef cattle feeding, effect of its use on carcass quality, use of hormones
and antibiotics in steer rations, outlook for the beef industry and use of oat silage for wintering cattle.

A Week in Summary

With corn harvest and fall seed-

our attention to rounding up cattle and getting the sheep into winter quarters. About 125 lambs are now on full feed, and 90 head of yearling steers are being brought onto feed in drylot.

Combines are in use this week
getting seed from Sericea lespede-za. Mowing machines are busy with late clipping of pastures.

These are just a few of the many jobs going on here now.

Ideally you should clip pastures
after you take the grazing animals off. Under rotation grazing this would call for clipping at least three or four times a year. Rotation grazing and frequent clipping are good practices. Frequent clipping not only controls weeds, but also even pasture growth and brings new growth on previously ungrazed clumps. If these clumps are not mowed, livestock will probably refuse to graze them throughout the summer.

Like many farmers, we feel the press of other work and fail to get all pastures clipped during the summer. It seems a waste of time to mow for mowing frost and after the weeds have gone to seed, unless you are plagued with sassafras and persimmon sprouts. Annual mowing still is the most practical way to control woody plants in permanent pasture and to keep them down to mow size.

Nitrate for Grass Pastures

Applying 30 to 40 pounds of actual nitrogen, even as late as November, to each acre of fescue pasture will pay well by saving hay
and feed for livestock this winter.
A ready supply of nitrogen during fescue-growing weather this winter will help the grass grow more rapidly and make it higher in protein.

If grass pasture is not to be grazed this winter, it will be best to wait until early spring to apply the nitrogen. At the Station 60 to 70 pounds of actual nitrogen an acre increases forage yield by a ton to a ton and one-half and will generally hasten spring grazing by about two weeks. It all adds up to earlier, more nutritious pasture that can be grazed longer.

Some grasses respond more than others to nitrogen treatment. Bluegrass, bromegrass and orchard grass will generally give greater increases for nitrogen than will fescue. For example, in 1952, 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate increased bluegrass yields by 155 percent—from 1,800 pounds of dry matter to 4,600 pounds—while the same treatment increased fescue yields by 60 percent—from 4,500

pounds of dry matter to 7,400 pounds. But note that the fescue with no nitrogen yielded as much as did the bluegrass with treatment.

Protein Supplement Important

Protein supplement is important for getting economical gains on yearling steers being fed on pasture. Leaving protein supplement out of the ration resulted in the poorest feeding gains ever recorded on the Station. Ground ear corn and pasture gave an average daily gain of only 1.48 pounds. Nine hundred thirty-three pounds of corn were required for each 100 pounds of gain.

A similar group of steers fed on pasture with soybean oil meal supplement fed at the rate of one pound for every 8 pounds of corn and cob meal gained 2.05 pounds per day. Only 610 pounds of corn and 73 pounds of soybean oil meal
were required for each 100 pounds of gain. So 73 pounds of soybean oil meal replaced 323 pounds of corn and cob meal. With corn at $1.00, this means that the replacement value of soybean oil meal was $120 a ton.

Removing Rams from Breeding Flocks

The rams running with the breeding flocks on the Station are now being removed. Doing so now will eliminate those few straggling lambs that come late. Late lambs rarely do well, and they increase management problems in the flock.
So the rams are retired until next August, when the ewes will be bred again for January and February lambling.

The Great Divide is just another name for the Rocky Mountain watershed.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

The comparatively new Illinois egg law, enacted in 1951, has been the object of much recent writing.
This is an effort by a special education committee to clarify the law's points for the benefit of producers and consumers.

Certainly the egg industry in this state has not been subjected to as strict regulation as it has in some major egg-producing states.
The contention is that the Illinois producers have suffered in market prices as a result. Consequently, the egg law was instituted as a start in the direction of improving the quality of Illinois-produced eggs—or, at least, giving the egg consumer more protection.

It is not amiss, therefore, to take a look at what the law does for the persons who eat Illinois-produced eggs.

Obviously, in the past the housewife faced something of a gamble in buying eggs. Some were candled, some were not. One week
she might get high quality eggs.
The next week the quality might be low. There was no specified system in effect providing the consumer with knowledge of what various grades of eggs meant at any particular store, and no real assurance that the eggs were as advertised. She had to rely entirely on the integrity of the seller. In fact, it ought to be added hasty-ly that a large percent of the sellers had and merited the confidence of the purchaser.

By setting up candling, labeling and advertising requirements the Illinois egg law does increase assurance to the housewife that she is getting value for money spent in buying eggs.

The provision that all eggs bought by an egg dealer be candled and that the sale of inedible eggs be prohibited intends to keep bad eggs off the market.

The law provides that eggs for sale through wholesale and retail outlets be either labeled as ungraded or according to grade. If the housewife is buying eggs labeled "ungraded" she is aware that she has no assurance of their uniform quality. This awareness is certain to increase the consumer's knowledge of egg quality and will tend to cause her to demand better and more uniform egg quality.

It is obvious that the law's provision prohibiting misleading advertising as to egg quality is a protection for the buyer. It requires that the advertising be consistent with the quality of eggs available. If the merchant is selling ungraded eggs, he must say so in his advertising. If the eggs are some other grade, he must indicate the grade.

Originated Fairs

The American agricultural fair
was originated by Alkanah Watson, Albany, N. Y., who induced the state legislature in 1819 to appropriate a sum of money annually
for six years to encourage agricultural production.

Finnegan May Be Named Manager of Stevenson Campaign

CHICAGO (AP)—James A. Finnegan, a Pennsylvania man, may be named to manage Adlai E. Stevenson's campaign for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination, reliable sources said today.
Associates of Stevenson said Finnegan has the "inside track" for the post, which may be filled with in the next week. Finnegan, a prominent Philadelphia Democrat, is Pennsylvania secretary of state.
Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee for president, will announce his 1956 political plans here Tuesday. There is no question in political circles here that he'll seek the presidential nomination.

Arctic Blast Hits Rockies, Plains

By United Press
An Arctic cold wave broke all-time records at Seattle, Wash., and spread up to 10 inches of snow across the Rockies and northern Plains today.
The Arctic blast was the first major cold wave of the season. It gripped a vast area from the Pacific coast to the Dakotas and as far south as Nebraska.
A statewide snow fall turned highways into sheets of ice in Washington and slippery roads were blamed for at least three traffic deaths.
The freezing winds were also blamed for the sinking of the 123-foot tuna cutter Ocean Pride off the Oregon coast Friday night. Earlier, a Coast Guard cutter took off the 13-man crew while the ship was bombarded by heavy waves about 30 miles from Cape Lookout.
At Seattle, Friday's 20-inch snow reading was an all-time Nov. 11 low and the mercury was not expected to rise beyond 15 above today.

Observe Retarded Children's Week Nov. 13 to Nov. 23

William G. Stratton, governor of the state of Illinois, has proclaimed Nov. 13 through Nov. 23 as Retarded Children's Week throughout Illinois and requests the appropriate observance of the period by all interested groups, agencies, organizations and the general public.

Governor Stratton made public announcement of this when he officiated at the dedication ceremonies of the new Orchard School for Retarded Children in Skokie on Oct. 31.

Next week the Saline County Association for Mentally Retarded Children will sponsor a film entitled "Tuesday's Child" to be shown over WSIL-TV at a time to be announced later.

The Jack Benny show, which is a 30-minute program dedicated to retarded children, will be shown next week over television stations in Danville, Rockford, Peoria and Chicago.

Word was received today by Mrs. Aaron Dudley, president of the Saline County Association for Mentally Retarded Children that the National Association for Retarded Children at its annual convention had adopted a resolution calling on delegates to the White House Conference on Nov. 18 on education to give special attention to the educational needs of mentally retarded children.

The resolution said that the retarded need "a special educational program, special goals, special teachers and special facilities."

"Mentally retarded children," an association spokesman declared, "if given the proper opportunities can be assisted greatly to learn more fully and as a result are able to live not only happier lives, but lives that are more productive and contribute to the community in which they live."

In Memoriam In loving memory of our dear mother and sister, Mrs. Amanda Bush, who passed away two years ago today, Nov. 12, 1953. Little we knew with dawn that morn. The sorrow it would bring; The blow was hard, the shock severe. We little thought the end was near. If all the world were ours to give. We would give it, yes and more. To see your smiling face again Come shining through this door. Sometimes it is hard to understand Why some things have passed away. But in his wisdom God has planned Beyond our power to see. God gave us strength to bear it. And courage to meet the blow. But what it means to lose you. This world will never know. The beautiful things you did for us. Live in our hearts each day. And keep you near and dear to us. Though you have passed away. Sadly missed by daughters and sister. *116-1

THOUSANDS GREET RETURN Because it was a holiday, and tens of thousands of government workers all had the day off, a crowd estimated by police at 35,000 had turned out in brilliant fall sunshine to cheer the President's return.

They lined the flag-bedecked streets, climbing on statues, steps, and other vantage points, waving, shouting "Welcome home, Ike," and crying "I saw him, I saw him!" as his plastic-topped limousine passed.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and almost every other official bigwig were at the airport to join in the homecoming fun. But official greetings and handshakes were held to a minimum.

Nearly 16 centuries ago, a man named Augustine lived in a Roman colony in Africa. He was vain, greedy, lustful—in fact, few men have been less exemplary. Then, when in his early thirties, he began to be increasingly dissatisfied with his life.

One day, feeling particularly miserable, he went into his garden and wept. While weeping, he heard, from a neighboring house, the voice of a child saying again and again, "Take up and read. Take up and read."

Struck by these words, Augustine went to his room, opened his Bible, and read. And when he had finished reading the turning point in his life had been reached and passed and he was a man transformed.

Through the centuries men and women have gone to the Bible seeking, and have come away with their answer. For in no other book is there such truth, wisdom, and promise. That is why the American Bible Society has been at work for more than a century, bringing the Bible to millions of persons in more than 60 countries, translating it into hundreds of languages.

The Bible is everywhere, yours for the asking. Take it up—and read.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Jesus Teaches'

Luke 6:17-49

GOLDEN TEXT: "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise." (Lk. 6:31)

INTRODUCTION: Standing by the bedside of a dying man recently, I heard him say: "Oh, I have wasted so many years of my life." Those of us gathered there in his room knew what he meant. Only about a year before he had become a Christian. All those years previous to that had been spent in sinful living. He had, up to that time, "built his house upon sand." Thank God, he had placed his life upon a solid foundation a year before! Any person who is living without Christ in his life today, is building upon sand. One day the winds will blow and the rains will fall and his house will be destroyed, "and great will be the fall thereof."

I THE BEATITUDES (Luke 6:20-26)
In Matthew 5:1-16 one can find these Beatitudes in a greater detail. Really the whole Bible is a Book of Beatitudes. Surely the person who loves God, follows Christ and is a Christian, is blessed. A person must know Christ as personal Saviour to even understand and appreciate these Beatitudes. Jesus came into this world that he might bless those who accept him.

Only a true follower of Christ can "love his enemies, and do good to them that hate him."

II CHRISTIAN LIVING (Luke 6:27-38)

People who do not know Christ as personal Saviour will show love for one another. It is no special credit to Christians to love one another. This is what they should do. But,

"Love your enemies, and do them good, never despairing." There is the difficult part. Some folks have a difficult time loving their friends, much less their enemies. Does someone say: "I have no enemies?" If you are a Christian, you do. The more active you are as a Christian, the more enemies you will have.

Additional Church Notes

For instance, you just come out good and strong and let it be known that you are definitely opposed to some of the evils of today, and see if you don't have some enemies. However, you are to love them, Jesus said.

He promised that "your reward will be great, and you will be the sons of the most High," if you will keep this commandment.

III THE RESULTS (V. 39-49)
To illustrate further the principles he had been teaching, Jesus told several parables:

1. THE BLIND LEADING THE BLIND — (V. 39) — Jesus asked: "Can the blind lead the blind? Shall they not both fall into the pit?"

2. THE DISCIPLE IS NOT ABOVE THE TEACHER — (V. 40) — Everyone when he is perfected shall be as his teacher.

3. THE MOTE IN THY BROTHER'S EYE — (V. 41) — "Why beholdest thou the mote (little splinter) that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam (big log) that is in thy own eye." My mother used to say: "Sweep off your own door-step before you look for dirt on someone else's."

4. THE FRUIT OF A TREE (V. 44) — "For each tree is known by its own fruit." The fruit of a Christian is another Christian. If you are not influencing others for Christ, then you are not bearing fruit.

CONCLUSION — Jesus taught many wonderful things while here on earth walking in human flesh. Among his greatest teachings were those things being taught about what it means to be a follower of him. In this lesson we see that it is no easy task to live the life of a Christian. However, "all things are possible through Christ who constraineth us."

Carrier Mills Beats Mound City, 64 to 45

The Carrier Mills Wildcats defeated Mound City, 64-45, Thursday night in a basketball game played on the winners' floor. This was the season's opener for Mound City. Carrier Mills now has a 1-1 record.

Carrier Mills broke the scoring ice on a one-hander by Vern Rollins and was never behind. Oliver Rollins was the big gun in the winner's attack, scoring 33 points on 14 field goals and five free tosses. Evers, a 6-4 center, was Mound City's scoring gun with 11 points, but Hopkins attracted the crowd by connecting on eight consecutive free tosses. Information from Mound City is that Hopkins hit on 49 of 50 during one stretch of play last season.

Carrier Mills won the preliminary game 70-42.

Friday, Nov. 18, Carrier Mills goes to Mt. Vernon and hosts Shawneetown Saturday.

NOT JUST YET, BUSTER!—A Benton defender sprawls on the turf after an unsuccessful attempt to bring down Tony Beal, pile-driving Bull Dog fullback, as Beal ground out a 30-yard kickoff return in yesterday's game. The two Benton players in the background finally ran Tony out of bounds at midfield after a fine gain. The run was of no avail, however, as the Rangers scored twice late in the game to win, 12-6. Eldorado Eagles Close Season with 54 to 12 Victory Over Fairfield

Attack Rolls in High Gear for Highest Score

Eldorado closed out its 1955 football season on a high note Friday, running up its highest point total of the season in defeating Fairfield, 54-12. The game was played on the Eldorado gridiron Friday night and gave the winners a season record of five victories, three losses and one tie.

The Eldorado attack rolled in high gear in the second and fourth periods, counting 20 points in each. In the first and third frames Eldorado scored lone TDs.

Eldorado, heavy with seniors, exploded for eight touchdowns and everyone was given a chance to carry the ball as linemen pulled out for tackle and ends around, etc., as the game progressed.

There were stars all over the place as punts were blocked, fumbles recovered, passes intercepted with the seniors giving the fans something to talk about during the off season.

Four players in particular stood out—Acie Gwaltney, co-captain, capped a three year varsity career with three TDs on runs of 29, 11 and 10 yards. Ronnie Stroke, an all-round star, caught a pass for a TD and ran 35 yards for another. He also caught two passes for extra points, did the punting and played a fine defensive game. Lindell "The Horse" Lovellette shredded the Fairfield line both on offense and defense and Ronnie Clark, quarterback, did his usually fine job of sleight-of-hand ball handling and calling the plays, but also scored a TD, his first as a varsity player.

Others could be singled out, but to call it a squad victory seems sufficient.

Eldorado scored early after blocking a Fairfield punt and recovering on the 29 yard line. Gwaltney went over on the first play to put the Eagles on top. Stroke caught a Clark pass for the point.

Shortly after the second quarter started Stroke reeled off a 50-yard gallop to the 10-yard line. On the next play Gwaltney scored again.

Fairfield fumbled the kickoff and the Eagles recovered on the 40. Potts, Stroke and Lovellette advanced to the 19, then Clark hit Stroke in the end zone for a TD. Potts went over for the point.

Fairfield scored its first TD on a beautifully executed pass play, Carl Smith to Gayland Scott, that covered 43 yards on the second play after taking the kickoff.

Eldorado's third TD of the second quarter came on a 11-yarder by Gwaltney and Gerald Foster, reserve halfback, went over for the point.

In the third quarter Stroke broke off tackle and went 35 yards to score then caught a pass from Clark for the extra point.

In the fourth period Don Kingery caught a pass from Clark that was good for 19 yards and a TD. Eldorado gained possession in a hurry after the kickoff when Fequay intercepted a pass and ran it back 35 yards to the F-35. Gwaltney went 27 yards to the two after Foster and Stroke had picked up six.

Two line plays failed, then Clark sneaked through for his first varsity TD. Gary Phelps carried for the point.

Eldorado's final TD was on a 62-yard down-the-middle gallop by Lovellette. Potts carried for the point.

Fairfield's Carl Smith, a fine back carrier, scored his team's second tally on a 32-yard run.

The Eldorado athletic program will make the fast shift, with Coach Al Adams starting basketball practice Monday. First game is listed for Nov. 26 at Benton.

Eight Greater Egyptian Conference Cage Teams in Action Tuesday Night

Members of the Greater Egyptian conference enter basketball play on a full scale Tuesday, Nov. 15, with all eight teams in action.

Shawneetown, last season's champ, will be favored to repeat as there are eight of last year's first ten back for action. Lost from the championship squad are Bobby Spottsville and Garrison Newsom, a pair of outstanding performers.

Returning are Jack Nolen, a fine 6-4 center, Jack Drone, Alfred Gunzel, Hobart Ellis, Mitchell Thrailkill and Ted Coleman, all standing 6 feet or more, Carroll Crayne at 5-11 and Bob Stewart, 5-9.

The Indians have a new coach, Darwin Valtor, a graduate of Ridgeway high school. Valtor completed his college work at Tulane university. This is his first year to coach.

Will Play Ridgeway

Hosting the champs will be the Ridgeway Eagles, coached by Bob Dallas, HTHS and Southern Illinois university graduate. Dallas also is starting his coaching career.

Dallas saw his team in action last Tuesday in a non-league encounter. Ridgeway won from Mills Prairie, 56-40, with Don Crayne, a 6 foot senior, topping the scoring with 23 points.

Other players expected to see action throughout the season include John Mills, 5-10 and Gary Dillard, 6-2, both seniors. Three sophomores, Ambrose, Jones and Clifford saw action in the opener.

Equality, third Gallatin county high school in the conference, got a jump in loop competition and now stands at the top of the heap. In the only league game played to date Equality defeated Cave-in-Rock, 46-44, at Cave Friday, Nov. 4.

Coach "Kayo" Willis has an inexperienced, small team, but the players have showed real fight to date. After taking favored Cave in the opener Equality came back and battled Enfield into a double overtime before losing, 52-49.

New Coach at Galatia

Rom Milligan, a 6-0 senior is the only returning letterman. Three sophs—Carl Barnett, Terry Glover and Gordon Smith—and freshman Harlan Barnett are the other starters.

Saline county's lone entry in the conference—Galatia—has a new coach in Glenn Dunn and several experienced players from last year's team.

Galatia's first ten will probably include two seniors, seven juniors and a sophomore.

The seniors are John Tate 6-1 and Ron Gray 5-10. Larry Mankerville 5-11, Elbert Cantrell 5-10, Dale Tate 5-11, Gene McFarland 6-1, Bud Hanks 6-2, Bob Foster 6-1 and Joe McPherson 5-8 are juniors and Lasley Kimmel at 5-11 is the sophomore.

Other members of the conference are Vienna, coached by Carroll Belcher; Cave-in-Rock with Glenn Oxford the coach; Rosiclare coached by Millard Davis, and Pope County at Golconda, coached by Gene Dick.

Tuesday's schedule:
Shawneetown at Ridgeway.
Pope County at Cave-in-Rock.
Galatia at Equality.
Rosiclare at Vienna.

WELDON, Ill. (UP)—Caesar Eastham Jr., 20, Weldon, was killed Friday by a shotgun blast while pheasant hunting on a farm near here.

Four other men were hunting with Eastham, and it was not known who fired the fatal blast because they were scattered about the hunting area.

Rangers Tally Twice In Final Quarter; Last Game for Local Squad

The Benton Rangers, held scoreless for three quarters, tallied twice in the last frame to knock off Harrisburg, 12 to 6, in the closing football game of the season for the Bull Dogs.

The South Seven tilt, a Veterans Day contest, was played before a large crowd on windy Tabor field at Benton.

The defeat gave the locals a mark of six wins, two losses and a tie in overall competition and three wins, two losses and a tie in the conference. The South Seven wins were the first three loop games played.

The Bull Dogs were beset with injuries the latter half of the schedule.

The locals held the upper hand during the first half but in the second it was a different story. Harrisburg scored early in the second quarter on a 24-yard pass, Tony Beal to end Bill Henshaw, and held on to the lead until the final period.

Intercept Benton Pass

Harrisburg started its drive when end Bennie Fulkerson intercepted a Benton pass on the B-42. A Benton penalty for offside and plunges of four and two yards by Beal gave the Bull Dogs a first down on the B-30. Donald Biggs made six to the 24 and Beal threw to Henshaw from there. Bill making a deft catch of the ball just as he was stepping into the end zone. The locals fumbled on their try for extra point.

Benton got its break early in the fourth quarter on a local miscue. Jim Williams, back to punt, fumbled a low pass and Jim Sandusky, Benton tackle, in trying to pick up the free ball bobbled it all the way back to the H-1, where it went out of bounds. Ed Fredette went over on the first play from scrimmage, but the Ranger fullback was stopped when he tried to plunge for the extra point.

A couple of minutes later Wayman Hefner was smeared as he was trying to pass and a Benton player grabbed the loose ball and ran into the end zone, but the play was called back to the H-40 as Benton got a penalty on the H-25 for holding. From there they marched to their second touchdown. Marvin Ross running wide around his own left end from the six to score. Gene Dorcinez place-kick attempt was blocked.

Local TD Nullified

Tony Beal, who carried only five times the first three quarters, started carrying in the last frame when Harrisburg was behind and the locals moved from the H-38 to the B-40 but an intercepted pass which followed a 15-yard penalty against the locals for clipping ended that threat. The game ended just as Benton intercepted another local pass, Dick Rice running the ball to the H-20.

Lawrenceville Ends Perfect Season, 49-0

By United Press

Pana, Arcola, Elgin and Lawrenceville all put the finishing touch on perfect seasons Friday night as most Illinois prep football teams closed the 1955 campaign.

In other top games, Decatur's Redmen moved into a tie for the Big 12 championship with Champaign, and Peoria Central set itself up for a third share of the crown.

Pana's Panthers pushed over two third period touchdowns to stop Taylorville 13-0 and gain their ninth straight victory and the first perfect season in the school's history.

Elgin's Big Eight champions also registered win No. 9 over La Salle-Peru 25-6.

Lawrenceville breezed to a lopsided 49-0 win over Bridgeport, and Arcola had almost as easy a time with Tuscola, winning 39-6.

Decatur jolted Pekin 34-14 to finish with a 5-0 conference record, tying Champaign which closed its season Thursday.

Peoria Central ran its Big 12 record to 4-0 with an easy 27-0 decision over Mattoon. The defending champion Lions can share a third share of the loop title by beating Peoria Manual on Thanksgiving Day.

Peoria Woodruff, with one game still to play, preserved its perfect record by downing East Peoria 7-0.

De Kalb's once-beaten Barbs stunned Wheaton 26-14, and Galesburg walloped Monmouth's Zippers 26-0.

Benton surprised Harrisburg 12-6 in a South Seven conference finale, and Beardstown socked Rushville 32-6 for its fifth straight conference triumph.
